NEW 'SHOCKING PINK' PLATES READY FOR KELOWNA DRIVERS

Sale of passenger car licence plates in Kelowna is slightly ahead of last year. E. Ross Oatman, government agent, said today 85 more plates have been sold to date than in 1960, when by Jan. 10 some 275 had passed across the counter of Kelowna's Provincial Government Building.

The easily-recognizable 1961 markers are painted in what has been described as flamingo or shocking pink.

Here in Kelowna, there are 7,400 plates available to the driving public. These run between numbers 368-626 and 376-026. Mr. Oatman said that, although all those numbers would be Kelowna area plates, the issue would be confused, when and if a second order was placed in Victoria. In that event Kelowna and district drivers might get any number.

The trend is up, possibly due to more cars, he said. "Each year we get 500 more plates issued to us."

Last day a car with 1960 plates can be on the road is March 1. This means drivers should pick up their new plates before Feb. 28, he said, preferably earlier.

Hearing Decision Deferred

Magistrate D. M. White will announce Jan. 16 his decision on whether or not he has found sufficient evidence against Edward Druchenberg, 62, for him to stand trial on a charge of murdering his wife.

At the conclusion of the preliminary hearing Tuesday, Magistrate White said: "I do not wish to rush into any hasty decision. It is a very serious case."

The preliminary hearing wound-up as a packed courtroom heard defense counsel H. S. Harrison Smith ask for acquittal on a charge of manslaughter, and Crown Prosecutor Brian Weddell ask for a trial on the original charge of murder.

Nine witnesses in all, on Dec. 1 and yesterday gave evidence before Magistrate White. These included pathologist Dr. J. J. Prag, serologist Cpl. Arne Knut Bergh of the RCMP, Dr. M. C. Dobson, and members of Kelowna RCMP detachment.

Diefenbaker Holds Out Hope That 'Freedom Will Return'

KINGSTON, Jamaica (Reuters) — Prime Minister John Diefenbaker said here Tuesday that Canada will continue its trade with Cuba to "hold open the possibility of a return on the part of Cuba to reason in international and national affairs."

Diefenbaker, in Jamaica on a week's holiday, told a press conference it would be short-sighted for Canada to take a position that would close the door to the possibility of Cuba returning to freedom.

However, Canada would not permit the trans-shipment of American goods or sell Cuba any strategic goods.

He said in reply to criticism in the United States of Canada's continued trade with Cuba that "Canada respects the right of every country to determine its own policy."

He noted that Canada disagrees in every way with the principles Russia stands for but continues to trade with the Soviet Union.

"We intend to maintain relationships with other countries in the interest of international peace," he said.

WON'T JOIN OAS
Diefenbaker said Canada feels no need to join the Organization of American States.

Canada proposed to send someone to the next meeting of the organization, to be held in Lima, Peru, but only as an observer, he said.

Raging Floods Hit Mainland

VANCOUVER (CP) — Residents of British Columbia's lower mainland today faced a big job of cleaning up after three days of torrential rain created dangerous flooding in many areas.

Two deaths were blamed on the storm and an eight-year-old boy is missing. Property damage was estimated in hundreds of thousands of dollars. The downpour let up Tuesday night.

North Vancouver residents were started Tuesday when a 2,000,000-gallon reservoir burst and sent a 10-foot wall of water crashing down the mountain-side.

The reservoir was fed by Mission Creek and the water at one time threatened 50 homes in a swank residential section. Municipal engineers, volunteers and civil defence personnel cut a channel to drain the area.

"I have never seen anything like it and probably never will," said municipal engineer George Meckling. He said he could not understand how the reservoir, built in 1930, had broken.

Floodwaters tore one car out of a garage and carried it 400 feet. Another car was flipped on its side.

Mrs. Betty Fitzgerald said she "happened to look out of the window and saw it coming toward me, and I screamed and screamed."

Winter Works Projects Will Provide 9,000 Jobs

VICTORIA (CP) — Federal, provincial and municipal governments are reaching deep into their pockets to provide jobs for 9,800 men on $45,000,000 worth of municipal winter work projects in British Columbia.

The program, largest since winter work projects were formalized three years ago, is expected to require 523,549 man-days of work. The average wage is $18 per day.

The federal government pays 50 per cent and the provincial and municipal governments share the remainder of direct payroll costs. Municipalities must go the cost of materials themselves.

Outside the greater Vancouver area, the greatest expenditure is on municipal buildings.

Grants have been approved for $13,000,000 worth of sewers, $5,447,000 worth of waterworks and $1,845,000 worth of road construction improvements.

A spokesman for the department of municipal affairs said Tuesday applications are being processed as fast as they are received.

LARGEST PROGRAM

"We are trying our best to have every municipality get on with its projects before the deadline for grants expires April 30."

Some 57,000 persons are currently unemployed in B.C. Slowdowns in all of the major industries — lumber and forest products, fishing and construction — have been blamed for increasing the number of jobless.

The Greater Vancouver area has the largest municipal winter work program. Last weekend there were 2,393 persons employed on $19,657,401 worth of projects. Some $7,782,000 is being completed this winter, yielding a direct payroll benefit of $2,803,361.

The biggest single municipal project in the province is construction of a civic theatre at Vancouver. It will cost $1,347,000 but only $450,000 will be spent before the period in which grants may be obtained expires.

The next largest program is underway at Prince George, where projects costing $946,200 are helping relieve unemployment problems precipitated by cutbacks in the northern interior lumber industry.

Alman Jerry Reynolds of Creighton, Mo., made an oral confession, Police Chief Myron J. Traynor said Tuesday night. Reynolds was held on an open charge.

He was taken into custody Tuesday at about the same time the body of a 17-year-old girl, missing from a grave at Bayou Meto cemetery, was found in Jack's Bayou near here.

Traynor quoted Reynolds as saying he did not know why he committed the bizarre deeds, but said he "realized for some time that I was sick."

Scotland Yard Officers Check Out Polish Ship

LONDON (AP) — Scotland Yard sent special intelligence officers aboard a Polish freighter here Tuesday night.

Mystery surrounded the boarding, but London newspapers speculated that Britain may be on the trail of an international spy ring based in Warsaw.

The ship search may be connected with the arrests of five persons, picked up four days ago on suspicion of spying for an unnamed foreign power. Three of them are believed to be Canadians.

Scotland Yard acted as reports circulated that British intelligence chiefs have warned Canada, Australia and New Zealand to watch for agents from Warsaw posing as immigrants.

It is feared they have been filtering into Commonwealth countries on forged passports to spy on navy, army and air force bases.

DETAILED CHECK MADE
British special intelligence men spent more than three hours on the 3,219-ton Polish ship Jaroslaw Dabrowski, making a detailed check on passengers and crew.

No result of the check was made public. British newspapers recalled the ship had figured before in at least one other spy case.

A Soviet Embassy official, Pavel Kuznetsov, slipped aboard the freighter in July 1952 to be taken home after the foreign office demanded his departure.

Kuznetsov was believed to have procured the treachery of William Marshall, a British diplomatic service radio operator jailed five years for giving the Russians secret information.

Free Education For All Promised By Liberals

OTTAWA (CP) — The Liberal party Tuesday night launched itself on campaigns for free education at all levels and a national medical care plan.

Both moves—delicately tuned to the ear of the electorate, and estimated to cost millions—got a roaring endorsement from the party rank and file on the floor of the national Liberal rally.

The initial free education move would amount to $40,000,000 a year in scholarships and bursaries for university students plus a university loan fund of unspecified size.

The "plan for health" would be designed to cover doctors' bills and medicine costs—thus adding to the existing hospital insurance program—but it wouldn't be all free.

Everyone paying income tax would be required at the year-end to add up his doctors' and druggists' bills and pay a tax on the total amount—the rate being equal to what he pays on his regular taxable income. The government would pay for the rest.

Both moves are bound to be hammered into the Liberal election platform.

Kennedy Names Stevenson Aide

PALE BEACH, Fla. (AP) — President-elect Kennedy today completed the state department high command with the appointment of a close political associate of Adlai Stevenson as undersecretary of state for economic affairs.

Kennedy, back at the seaside home of his parents after a week of conferences in New York, Boston and Washington, gave the foreign policy job to George W. Ball, 51-year-old Democrat.

Ball has a background of service in government and now is a Washington lawyer specializing in international law. He long has been a chief political adviser to Stevenson, the Democratic presidential nominee in 1952 and 1956, recently picked by Kennedy to be ambassador to the United Nations.

Hungary Agrees To Up Subsidy

BUDAPEST (Reuters) — Hungary's Communist government has agreed to raise the subsidy paid to the Roman Catholic church for 1961, the Catholic newspaper Uj Ember reported.

The newspaper disclosed no definite figure. It said that if extra money was not forthcoming, the clergy and the church would face "financial difficulties."

'Low Public Morality' Causes Montreal Crime

MONTREAL (CP) — Two leading university professors Tuesday blamed "low public morality" for what has almost certainly been the most crime-ridden year in the history of Montreal.

Ronald Cheffins, associate professor of criminology at McGill University, said the city had too much tolerance "for what are often border-line activities."

"People here are almost amused by all the crime," he said. "The man on the street seems to think a lot of crime makes the city more cosmopolitan and dignified. There is a generally low morality here."

Professor Maxwell Cohen, acting dean of the McGill law faculty, agreed.

"There traditionally has been a public fear of a too-efficient police force. A higher level of public morality would have a self-policing effect."

Although official statistics are not complete, it is evident that almost without exception, all types of crime were on the increase here during 1960.

The homicide squad handled 18 homicide cases involving 19 victims in 1960, compared to 21 cases with 24 victims in the previous year.

However, the squad, which handles cases ranging from assault to homicide, recorded 50 more cases in 1960 than the previous year. Grievous assault cases increased to 108 from 90.

The holdup squad investigated 635 complaints in 1960, 63 more than in the previous year. At year's end, 193 of these were unsolved.

Police estimated that car thefts during 1960 increased by about 20 per cent over 1959.

When borrowing makes good sense...

Your bank can help you in a score of ways. But most customers come to the BNS for two main reasons—to save and to borrow.

These two services—putting money aside for future needs... borrowing to meet some present need—are as old as money itself. Good money management combines the wise use of both saving and borrowing.

Q. But, don't you cut down expense by saving for something and then paying cash?

A. Of course. It is always cheaper to pay cash—and your savings account will build interest. Many people save for the things they want through our unique instalment savings plan, PSP (Personal Security Program).

But running a family is like running a business. Sometimes an unexpected event or special opportunity may create a need for more ready cash than is on hand; or, you may want to finance a purchase without dipping into your savings.

At times like these, borrowing makes good sense.

Q. Does the bank really welcome a new borrower?

A. Certainly it does. Making loans is our business. We are proud of the number of Canadians—men and women of integrity who are regularly employed—who have become new customers of this bank through our Scotia Plan Loan service.

Q. How much can I borrow?

A. Scotia Plan Loans run from a few hundred dollars to a few thousand. There is no point, of course, in paying costs for money you don't need, and we will not encourage you to borrow more than you can conveniently repay. But you can often save money by borrowing enough through Scotia Plan to pay off your other debts; and at the same time by lengthening the period of repayment, you pay less each month than you were formerly paying.

Q. Must I be a BNS customer to get a Scotia Plan Loan?

A. No, indeed. If your proposition is sound, and you are in a position to repay, then you can borrow under Scotia Plan.

Thousands of Canadians use Scotia Plan Loans to finance personal and family purchases, to pay off outstanding debts, or to meet special payments. When ready cash is your problem, a low cost Scotia Plan Loan may be the answer. Come in and talk it over.

ONE-TRIP

They point out that today trucks are bringing vegetables into the valley but because of B.C. practices that B.C. fruit growers pay higher transportation charges as a result of the heavy one-trip or short term B.C. regulations that the royal Washington points.

Under a reciprocal agreement these trucks could not only pick up fruit at considerably reduced rates but also open new markets for the B.C. fruit industry.

CHAMBER TOLD:

Williston Is Sincere On Columbia Treaty Belief

"Lands and Forests Minister Prosser said, pointing out that Ray Williston is sincere in his belief that B.C. has negotiated an excellent grasp of the best possible deal with the U.S. government on the Columbia project."

Both sides of the question have facts to support their stand, Mr. Prosser pointed out. He quoted the minister as saying that he had a tough time getting the U.S. parties involved to accept the terms he had, and that they hadn't been too anxious to accept these terms.

"But from reading the draft treaty, I would say that the Americans seem very anxious to get the deal through," Mr. Prosser said.

One thing that is going to happen, is that opposition from the Arrow Lakes people is going to become stronger, Mr. Prosser observed.

UNDER FIRE

Another thing pointed out to him was that the treaty at present coming under so much fire from the minister's opposition is just a draft treaty, a preliminary arrangement on which to base further work towards the completion of the arrangements.

Mr. Prosser said that there had been a number of questions he would have liked to ask the minister, but he didn't get a scrupulous attention to detail from those presenting their complaints to him. He gave them a good hearing," Mr. Jan. 18.

Winfield's Fire Brigade In Good Financial Health

Financial health of the Winfield Voluntary Fire Brigade is type of hydrant which is frost-free and would insure the brigade of a water supply the year around.

This is a result of the First Annual Firemen's Ball, members and guests heard at the brigade's annual meeting in the Fire Hall Monday.

Two new directors were elected, A. Jansen and Jack Gunn; the other two directors, R. Krebs and H. Reddecoff have another year to run.

Peter Green was elected secretary-treasurer, and an entertainment committee was elected which consisted of the following, A. Arnold, Matt Kobayashi and Cliff Gunn.

A report on the installation of a fire hydrant was made by R. Krebs. Eleven residents in his neighborhood shared the cost of the hydrant which amounted to $49.77 or approximately $4.50 a person. It is hoped that this installation will encourage other groups of residents to install this type of hydrant which is frost-free and would insure the brigade of a water supply the year around.

FIREMEN'S PARTY

The firemen are planning a party for Feb. 25, strictly a social affair for firemen and their wives.

December was a quiet month for the brigade with no alarms turned in. The first call of the New Year came at about 10:30 p.m. on Jan. 7, when the brigade turned out in a matter of minutes to the home of Mr. and Mrs. Raymond Hottel and quickly brought a chimney fire under control. There was no damage.

The brigade was sorry to receive a letter of resignation from George King who, due to other obligations, is unable to continue as a fireman.

Magistrate Presents His Breakdown Of '60 Crime

Magistrate Don White, in presenting a plea to City Council, for more space and more assistance to deal with the increasing number of court cases in Kelowna (as reported in Tuesday's Courier) submitted a full report.

Here is the breakdown of this report which deals with the first three quarters of 1960.

In his report, the magistrate broke down the figures to District and City Court, juvenile and adult.

There were 1,690 adult cases and 79 juvenile cases dealt with in the city, with fines and costs amounting to over $11,000. There were 198 adult cases tried in District Court, and 17 juvenile cases, whose fines and costs totalled well over $6,000.

Cases tried in Police Court under the Motor Vehicle Act were by far the most numerous. There were 131 cases tried.

RED LIGHT

Driving through red traffic lights, speeding, failing to stop at stop signs, and impaired driving were the most numerous, along with charges of driving without due care and attention.

Sixty-four cases of being intoxicated in a public place were tried, and twelve individuals went to jail on this charge. Eight minors were charged with possession.

Under the Indian Act, 25 people were charged with being intoxicated in a public place, six were charged with possession, and three with contributing.

Fifty-seven were charged under the Railway Act with trespassing. Fifty-two went to jail.

There was one case of theft, three of false pretenses, one of forgery, two of assault, six of vagrancy, and 13 of creating disturbances tried under the Criminal Code. Twelve went to jail as a result of these charges.

Under city bylaws, 991 were charged with parking offences. In 1960, 137 were charged with making left turns at Ellis and Bernard. Fines from these charges came to over $3,000.

In Juvenile Court a total of 79 cases were tried. This figure is broken down into offences under the Motor Vehicle Act, in which the largest number by far, 43, were for infractions concerning bicycles, into infractions under the Government Liquor Act, under which seven were charged, and the Criminal Code, under which thefts were the largest figure, 6.

Four juveniles were charged with having no license, two with speeding, one with not stopping at a stop sign, one with going through a traffic light, and seven with miscellaneous charges.

Under the Criminal Code, three juveniles were charged with breaking and entering, two with possession of stolen goods, six with theft, one with forgery, and two with assault.

District Juvenile Court figures were proportionately smaller.

In his letter to council, he said that if this trend of increasing takes place in Kelowna during the next three years, "ample room, and an increase in staff will be necessary to cope with it."

A Clerk of Court be hired because of this increase. At present, when a Court stenographer is needed, one must be brought in from another city.

TOASTMASTERS AT IT AGAIN AFTER REST OVER HOLIDAYS

After a brief respite for the holiday season, Kelowna Toastmasters were at it again Monday night in the Royal Anne Hotel.

With R. J. Bennett, club president, away in the east on a business trip, first vice-president Dudley Pritchard took the chair.

Four guests were introduced to the meeting: Frank Singer, Barry Wilson, Bill Wood and Mickey Morrison. Two new members were enrolled in the club: Glen Delcourt and Ron Smith.

Table topic master Ted Cameron kept the members guessing by asking them to relate various incidents in their lives. Keith Freer was called upon to criticize everyone's efforts.

Three speakers headlined the formal part of the evening. They were Bill Scott, Bob Taylor and Dudley Pritchard. Toastmaster Pritchard won the best-speakers' cup for his talk on sailboats. Evan Williams evaluated.

Jobless Total Soars Up In City To Season's Peak

The number of persons seeking work is climbing towards its seasonal peak, which usually occurs in January. A total of some 600 are residents in the 2,164 people are unable to find work today, as compared to 1,604 one month ago, according to A. Haig, manager of the National Employment Office in Kelowna.

At present 1,321 men and 813 women are seeking work, while 1,154 men and 767 women are employed. Among these are 665 men and 606 women in the unskilled occupations and the remainder in skilled, semi-skilled, clerical, sales, and service occupations.

It is expected the Do It Now Guinea, today continued a tour campaign will result in job opportunities for Communist East Europe, wait for spring, and help boost Tito, he flew to Sofia, capital of the economy during January of Bulgaria.

Shore May Get "Mr. Hockey" Licence Plates

BOSTON (AP) — Eddie Shore would get a special automobile registration designating him "Mr. Hockey" under a measure proposed to the 1961 Massachusetts legislature.

Representative John J. Fitzgerald, Springfield Democrat, is sponsor of the bill to give Shore the special registration plates. Shore, former NHL great, now is owner of Springfield Indians of the American Hockey League.

IOOF Seek Local Student For Big Pilgrimage to UN

In an endeavor to create as much interest as possible in the annual Oddfellow and Rebekah Lodge pilgrimage to the United Nations, the local IOOF has issued an appeal to students and teachers alike.

Henry Metke, recording secretary of the Kelowna IOOF said today: "We are trying to create enough interest so that this year we will be able to send a student on this pilgrimage."

He explained that the Oddfellow and Rebekah Lodges are this year again sponsoring a candidate for the pilgrimage; the successful candidate being given an all-expenses paid tour and will be able to get a first-hand view of the procedures in this assembly of nations.

TAKE PART

"The tour is so arranged that, travelling by chartered buses, the hundreds of candidates from all over Canada and the United States arrive at the same time. About a week is spent in the New York area, and the candidates are able to sit in on and take part in interviews with delegates from various countries. Various other points of interest are visited on both the going and return trips," he said.

The candidates are judged on their ability to speak, and this year the topic is Canada's Role in the United Nations. Contestants are not restricted to relatives of Oddfellows or Rebekahs, and great care is exercised in the selection of judges to assure fair and impartial judging.

In the past, Salmon Arm has come up with three winners in the tour.

Smack Of Sheer Stupidity U.S. Manoeuvres Off Cuba

The United States action of holding naval manoeuvres just off the coast of Cuba is difficult to understand. It would seem to put the United States in a position of inviting criticism and resentment.

We do not believe for one moment that the United States is planning any aggressive action against Cuba but it is puzzling when one considers that the severing of diplomatic relations with Cuba by the United States was done by a President who will leave office within a few days.

Equally puzzling are the manoeuvres, obviously authorized by that same President. The naval manoeuvres can do nothing but cause friends of the United States to wonder and to make them a bit doubtful of the judgment of Washington. The presence of the huge aircraft carrier in Guantanamo Bay would obviously give Castro and his Cubans a renewed excuse for crying "Aggression," an excuse of which they have taken full advantage.

There is no argument about the right of the U.S. to move the carrier Roosevelt into the bay adjacent to the American leased naval base in Cuba. Nor is there any quarrel with the holding of naval manoeuvres. Nor is there any disagreement with precautions taken to protect the American base. But being right does not necessarily mean being wise and in this instance the United States would seem to have been completely stupid. Why has she invited criticism by holding the naval manoeuvres almost within sight of Cuban shores? And why did she invite criticism by moving the Roosevelt into Guantanamo Bay?

It may be true, and probably is, that these naval manoeuvres had been planned many months ago, even before the complete rupture of U.S.-Cuban relations. The same may be true of the Roosevelt's visit to Guantanamo Bay. But plans, even those made months ago can be changed. And in this case they should have been.

As mentioned above this newspaper does not believe the United States is planning, as the Cubans say with justification, any aggressive action against Cuba. Nevertheless she has put herself in a poor light in the eyes of the world by her demonstration in force off Cuban shores. It may be that this is the real purpose of the manoeuvres; to show Castro and his communist allies that she is prepared for action should an aggressive action be made against the American naval base at Guantanamo. This may be the purpose but it has placed a powerful propaganda weapon in the hands of Castro and to the rest of the world it, the U.S. attitude, seems like a small boy placing a chip on his shoulder and "dusting" another to knock the chip off.

Fire In The Home

During 1960 more than 500 persons died in fires and a large percentage of these fire victims were killed in their own homes.

The best way to prevent a fire death in your home is to take every precaution, but if a fire should start, you must act promptly to protect against loss of life and excessive property damage.

The following are recommendations for safety in the home.

When a fire starts, have everyone leave the house immediately.

Do not wait to dress yourself or children; simply wrap yourself in a blanket or a coat.

As soon as everyone is safe, call the fire department.

Use a neighbor's telephone to call for help rather than waiting in your own home.

Do not attempt to fight the fire yourself until the fire department has been called.

If you have time, close all windows and doors and turn off the electricity at the master switch.

Buy a fire extinguisher for your home (your fire department will advise you as to the best type) and learn how to use it properly.

Always leave complete instructions with baby-sitters on what to do in case of fire.

Keep exits unobstructed by boxes or furniture.

Curfew For Juveniles Still Sounds Out Across Canada

By BRUCE LEVETT
Canadian Press Staff Writer

Each night in many centres across Canada a fire siren sounds.

Or it may be a cannon that fires or a bell that rings. Possibly it is a factory whistle that splits the darkness.

Whatever it is, few persons are conscious of the nightly signal any more; even fewer know what it stands for.

For these are the sounds of curfew, the cue for youngsters to get off the streets.

The Canadian Press, in a cross-Canada survey, found that many centres have curfew laws, although a comparatively few have a device to signal the curfew hour.

Even fewer have found the need or the means to enforce the ancient rules. In any case, not many even know they exist.

Vancouver is a case in point. There, the famed 9 o'clock gun—originally a signal to call the settlers into the fort for the night—sounds the beginning of curfew, a time when any boy or girl "actually" appears under 16 years of age must have an adult companion to be legally abroad.

HARD TO ENFORCE

Deputy police chief Gordon Ambrose says: "It is an old-time bylaw that may have been effective at the time but under present circumstances is almost impossible to enforce."

Most Vancouverites take the cannon's nightly roar as a time signal.

Where a curfew is enforced, it's a more as a protection for the youngsters—police across the country were almost unanimous in the opinion that most teen age trouble comes from 17 and 18-year-olds.

The sounds of curfew take many forms. Fredericton's fire alarm sounds at 10 nightly while the warning whistle blows in Ontario's Tisdale Township at 8:40 p.m. and again 15 minutes later. A fire siren roars in Crowland, Ont., at 10 p.m. and 11 p.m. and on the west coast, Victoria still pays a brewery $100 a year to sound its whistle at 9:30 p.m.

Whistles shriek on two factories at 9 p.m. in Cornwall, Ont. The siren that sounds at 9 p.m. in New Glasgow, N.S., means be home within 20 minutes.

The 9 p.m. siren at Conitcook, near Sherbrooke, Que., can be heard all over town as can the siren at Pointe Claire, Que.

BELL IS SILENT

Penbrooke, Ont., has a provision on the books that the fire bell ring nightly at 9 p.m. It hasn't for years.

The North Bay, Ont., curfew law was written in 1896 and specified that children under 14 must not wander abroad after dark—set at 9 p.m. The fire bell was to clang seven times to indicate the hour.

The North Bay law was enforced for a while, fell into disuse, was brought back during the Second World War, then faded out again.

Reaction to curfew laws range from outright opposition. "There would have to be a rabid wolf behind every tree before I'd want such a thing," says Reeve R. Allen of East York, a Toronto suburb, to the call for rigid enforcement by Police Chief Adrien Robert of Hull, Que.

"We... really cracked down on all the kids we found on the street after hours. In no time at all the complaints dropped by 80 to 85 per cent."

As in most areas, Hull regards the regulations as something to be enforced with tolerance and understanding but handy to have on the books should the juvenile problem get out of hand.

SAVES POLICE TIME

Hull tried easing off on enforcement and, as Chief Robert puts it:

"The time we saved by not chasing the kids home was less than half the time we had to spend answering complaints from residents."

Where they exist at all, curfew regulations have been almost unenforced for years throughout the western provinces.

Quebec province has more than any other section. Ontario and the Atlantic provinces, where curfew laws exist, enforce them—in the words of a Halifax police official—"with soft hands."

In some areas, parents are all for the curfew—such as the mother of a young girl in Saint John, N.B., where a 1937 curfew has been unenforced for years and where the city solicitor is studying proposed revisions.

"A curfew should be fine for all concerned," the mother said.

Then my young daughter couldn't say "Mary and Jane can stay out to nearly midnight, why can't I? They'd all be in the same boat."

EASY TO CIRCUMVENT

In other areas, youngsters who have become aware of curfew laws have turned them to their own use.

Teen-agers found that the law in Penitence, B.C., said they must proceed home after hearing the curfew bell at 7:45 p.m. during the winter and 8:45 p.m. in summer. The law, however, didn't state that they had to stay there.

Attorney-General Leslie Curtis of Newfoundland says that been any need to enforce a curfew to now there never has been.

He should know. His home was ransacked by juveniles recently during the afternoon.

And girls at the Lakehead seem to have a thorough understanding of the word "curfew" and apply it to suit their own needs.

The word comes from the French, couvre-feu, which literally means "cover fires." It was born when houses were made of timber and sticks. A bell was rung at the appointed hour to tell the townspeople to cover their fires before retiring.

The Port Arthur girls questioned on their reaction to the 9 p.m. curfew were happy about it.

It helps them douse the fires in youthful hearts by relieving them of the responsibility of forcing boy friends to take them home at a decent hour.

Kennedy Aiming To Wrest Cold War Lead From Russia

This is the first of a series of stories on the plans and problems of the new Kennedy administration.

By JOHN HIGHTOWER

WASHINGTON (AP) — In his first months in office President-elect Kennedy intends to build up United States military power and devise new strategy to wrest the cold war initiative from Russia.

Until he has these projects well advanced, Kennedy and State Secretary-designate Dean Rusk hope to postpone pressures for a summit conference with Soviet Premier Khrushchev. Early summit meetings with Allied leaders appear incapable, both Prime Minister Macmillan of Britain and West German Chancellor Adenauer anxiously desire to talk with the new president.

Even a meeting with Khrushchev in the first six months may not be avoidable because the Soviet leader can set off a new Berlin crisis any time he wishes.

New action promised by Kennedy in the global struggle with communism ranges from increasing aid for Latin America, Africa and Asia to rebuilding the North Atlantic alliance, opening new channels of contact with Communist China, and developing a "new approach" to the Soviet Union.

PROBLEMS PILE UP

Critical problems are piling up for speedy action. Foremost among these are:

1. Negotiations with Russia on a treaty banning nuclear weapons tests. Kennedy is on record as favoring "one more big attempt to reach agreement."

2. The dollar crisis. Kennedy is reported convinced that he must take steps promptly to strengthen the U.S. dollar as an international currency, which means cutting the country's loss of gold and dollars.

3. The crisis in Laos. State department experts consider the conflict between pro-Western and pro-Communist forces in the little Southeast Asian kingdom capable of expansion into a larger war involving Western forces and the Chinese Communists.

ALARM HIDDEN

4. The Cuban crisis. Behind the scenes there is more official alarm than has appeared publicly about the danger and damage to the U.S. world posture from the buildup of Communist influence in Cuba.

5. The Berlin dispute. U.S. officials believe Khrushchev will stay his hand until Kennedy has an opportunity to take over the reins in Washington.

It has been suggested that a NATO meeting at Oslo, Norway in May should be converted into a Western summit session. U.S. allies expect to find out whether Kennedy will go forward with a plan advanced by the Eisenhower administration for giving NATO its own, seaborne nuclear rocket force.

While neither Kennedy nor any spokesman is known to have made any actual commitment, he is expected to support the preliminary position taken by the outgoing administration.

OTTAWA REPORT

Tradition Of Annual Levee

By PATRICK NICHOLSON

When Governor-General George Vanier received at his New Year's Day Levee, he was repeating what is almost certainly Canada's oldest formal tradition.

It began nearly 350 years ago, when La Nouvelle France was a thin silver of European settlement, penetrating but delicately into this unknown half-continent. Then, on New Year's Day, the early settlers would put on their best clothes and travel perhaps considerable distances to pay their respects to their colony's governor.

So today, the resident deputy to our head of state holds open house on New Year's morning, when every citizen and soldier is welcome to exchange with him good wishes for the young year, and to enjoy his host's hospitality.

His Excellency George Vanier continues the recent tradition of holding his levee in the red-carpeted, picture-lined Senate Chamber. In his military uniform, the bearded hero stands at the foot of the Throne steps, with uniformed service aides and formally attired civilian secretaries in attendance.

While the scarlet-tinted musicians of the regimental band of the Governor-General's Foot Guards play both martial and popular airs in the outer hall, something over 1,000 visitors file up the Senate Chamber.

They shake hands with and bow to the Monarch's representative, and exchange good wishes and perhaps brief remarks with him.

The setting for this ceremony and its whole atmosphere shows our national capital in one of its most impressive and picturesque moods. It is to a snow-clad Parliament Hill that the Governor-General drives, generally, as this year, glistening white with the sun shining upon fresh snow, while the beautiful Peace Tower rears into a brilliant blue sky.

The red splash of our Canadian Ensign is hauled down from the flagpole topping the Parliament Building, and the dark blue standard of the Governor-General replaces it so long as he is within the building.

Protocol is evidenced by the morning coats and striped trousers worn by many of the civilians, although the tell-tale odor of mothballs at the end of the line-up suggests that the simple silvers of lesser precedence have really honored their host with their unaccustomed best wear.

Precedence is strictly followed in the line-up. First goes the Prime Minister. He is followed by our Chief Justice, Mr. Massey, as a former governor-general, would go next, if he chose to attend. Then follow the 41 ambassadors and high commissioners, the three ministers plenipotentiary and the eight charges d'affaires heading foreign diplomatic missions in Canada. Next come ministers in the cabinet, followed by former cabinet ministers and other privy councillors, judges, senators, MPs—and finally "gentlemen," which includes lawyers, doctors, businessmen, and other private citizens making up the daily life of Ottawa the national capital and Ottawa the community.

MILITARY AND PUNCH

That first group numbering around 500 passes the Governor-General at a clip of about 15 every minute. Then a pause for rest, and the second group file through—officers of the army, navy, air force and RCMP.

A smattering of women qualify for inclusion in this predominantly male ceremony. From the Senate Chamber and the formal handshake, the visitors drift through into the huge library committee room, to greet friends and acquaintances with New Year wishes, and to partake of the Governor-General's hospitality, hot rum punch or coffee, sandwiches, cheese and relishes.

'Pirate' Broadcasts To Bombard Britain

By M. MCINTYRE HOOD
Special London (Eng.) Correspondent

For The Daily Courier

LONDON — The government has set its face resolutely against the establishment of a system of local radio stations, on a commercial basis, in the United Kingdom. There have been many pleas by interested parties for the privilege of unwinding commercial broadcasting such as is quite common in Canada and the United States, but those asking for the privilege have been given no encouragement for their proposals.

It is very likely, however, that the people of the United Kingdom will soon be subjected to commercial radio broadcasting from another source. The broadcasts will be beamed to Britain from a floating transmitter station in the North Sea, outside the territorial limits of any country, and not subject to any broadcasting laws.

DUTCH ENTERPRISE

This venture into commercial radio broadcasting from a ship at sea is the product of Dutch enterprise. A group of men in the Netherlands have purchased a 120-ton German cargo steamer, and have fitted it out as a floating radio broadcasting studio and transmitter.

For the last two or three weeks, this floating station has been under test. Programs have been sent out from midnight to three a.m. on a broadcasting band of 102 meters. They have consisted mainly of Dutch music, interspersed with news, and a few advertisements.

But when the regular programs start early in 1961, they will include some special advertising features, interspersed between travel, adventure, drama and documentary items. The station, according to present plans, will be on the air from midnight to three a.m. and from six a.m. until noon.

LICENCE TROUBLE

The station is known in Holland as Station Veronica, but it will be broadcasting to the United Kingdom under the call letters CNBC Radio. It has had a good deal of trouble with the Netherlands authorities, which refused to grant it a licence. In the beginning of the project, the vessel was seized by the Netherlands authorities, but it was later released.

Its owners thought up the ingenious idea of moving out into the North Sea with the floating radio station, so as to be beyond the territorial jurisdiction of the Dutch government. To overcome its difficulties, it first flew the flag of Panama, but it is now flying the flag of Liechtenstein, where the company has been registered.

PREDOMINANT OCCUPATION

More than 90 per cent of the 22,000,000 people in Ethiopia engage in subsistence agriculture.

U.S. Researchers Work On All-Purpose Weapon

By BEN PRICE

WASHINGTON (AP) — The creation of an all-purpose weapon system has long been the dream of military men.

The U.S. Navy's research section, known as Operations 3, is working on precisely such a system—and has been since early 1958.

Upon completion sometime in the '60s, the navy hopes to have an incredibly complex, fully automated system which can be made operational some time after 1970. When developed, the navy expects it to:

1. Knock down anything that flies, whether a low, slow torpedo plane or an ultrasonic missile.
2. Destroy enemy shipping on or below the surface.
3. Bombard enemy shore installations.

Basically, the program calls for the integration of electronic computers, aircraft, ships, missiles, radar and the technology of automation into a single system. Until now this navy brainchild has been almost totally unpublicized. This is the first attempt at a comprehensive report on what is known as the Typhon-Eagle system.

ANALYSE ATTACK
The name Typhon, incidentally, derives from a fierce, legendary Greek monster with 100 heads.

When the system is fully installed in the U.S. fleet it will have a built-in ability to analyse the type of enemy attack and to select and launch the specific missile, or missiles, required to defeat it.

Further, the navy says, the system will be so refined that simultaneous mass attack by aircraft and missiles can be met selectively; that is, certain missiles will be directed automatically against aircraft and others against missiles.

It will even be effective, the navy believes, against the greatest of all threats to a moving fleet—the air-launched missile, either guided or ballistic. The navy says laboratory experiments have demonstrated that the system is practical.

In fact, contracts totalling more than $100,000,000 have already been let for development of prototype missiles and radar. Some of the components of the system already exist and are in fleet operation.

FULLY AUTOMATIC
The brains of the Typhon-Eagle system will be electronic computers mounted in aircraft and ships. The eyes will be a radar system.

The striking power will consist of three types of missiles, two of which will be solid-fuelled while the third will be a ramjet.

The entire system will be completely automated. "We will be able to empty an entire ship of its missile load," said a briefing officer, "without the lifting of a human hand." Missiles will also be launched automatically from aircraft.

All of the far-flung ships and aircraft will be tied together through the electronic computers by a powerful single-band radio wave.

Thus, ships and planes scattered over hundreds of square miles of ocean will be able to function as if they were all one unit.

Area CN Man Promoted To Senior B.C. Position

Appointments of four senior officers in the British Columbia area organization of Canadian National Railways have been announced by James J. Behan, B.C. area manager.

The appointments are in conjunction with CN's new plan of organization effective January 1, carried out to assure greater flexibility in meeting the demands of modern-day competition and step up the railway's effectiveness in serving the transportation market.

G. A. Thomas has been appointed area freight sales manager; A. C. L. Warner, area passenger sales manager; Charles Witche, industrial agent and T. A. Mainprize, operational manager.

Mr. Thomas was formerly assistant to freight traffic manager, Toronto. Mr. Warner has been general passenger agent in Vancouver for some time. Mr. Witche comes from Winnipeg where he has been industrial representative. Mr. Mainprize has moved from Kamloops where he was superintendent of the Kamloops division.

Other B.C. area appointments include: C. D. Worby, area engineer; G. D. McMillan, superintendent-transportation; R. M. Cowan, superintendent; R. A. Callaghan, supervisor of signals; S. J. Mayer, employee relations supervisor. All will be located in Vancouver.

"Idealistic" Americans Offered New Aid Plan

NEW YORK (AP)—A plan to put idealistic young Americans to work helping underdeveloped countries, without promising the participants exemption from military service, was announced by President-elect Kennedy.

The Kennedy headquarters distributed the report of a committee on the Youth Peace Corps without indicating whether he had approved it in detail.

Kennedy proposed the general idea during his election campaign, suggesting that peace corps service might be a substitute for the military obligation.

Dr. Max Millikan, director of the Centre for International Studies at Massachusetts Institute of Technology and head of the committee which drew up the plan, reported he considers it "undesirable to publicize this program as an alternative to the draft."

Valiant Last Stand By Defendants of Trolley

EL PASO, Tex. (AP)—Streamlined descendants of the Toonerville trolley are making a last-ditch stand here that would do the buffalo and whooping crane proud.

Cars of one of the few surviving trolley systems in the U.S. clang across the Rio Grande into Mexico through an international scene packed with enough intrigue, tradition and color for a Hollywood movie.

Their three-mile route leaves downtown El Paso, cuts across the U.S.-Mexico border, circles through Juarez and back across the Rio Grande in a loop that lies half in the U.S. and half in Mexico.

The passenger finds himself on a half-hour tour of two cultures, full of curious blendings of language, custom and architecture.

It is this cultural potpourri that makes the El Paso-Juarez trolley special. The fare alone is remarkable. Seven and one-half cents entitles the passenger to a ride from the United States to Mexico and back. Or the trip can start in Juarez, where the streetcar may be boarded for the fantastically low fare of 15 Mexican centavos (1.2 cents).

CUSTOMS CHANGE
Block by block the streetcar ride to Juarez spins a narrative of two nationalities. From downtown El Paso store signs change slowly from English into English and Spanish. Seniors in slowpoke by comparison.

black mantillas or shawls board the car in increasing numbers. Sidewalk fruit stores appear. Potted plants, so popular in Mexico, show up in windows.

The change in cultures, slowly begun, is in immediate evidence on the Mexican side of the international bridge. Inspection by Juarez customs officials punctuates the crossing of the Rio Grande, today a bare trickle of dirty water.

All signs are in Spanish. Buildings are painted gay yellows, blues and reds. Lavish homes with grilled iron windows, fences and gates front the business thoroughfare and conceal flower-filled patios within.

Down one side street is the rebuilt Balderas bull ring, where the greatest matadors in history have performed and where Pancho Villa once had his headquarters.

In most U.S. cities the crack of doom has sounded for the trolley. But for the bus to replace the trolley on El Paso's international line would require dealings and negotiations at the highest diplomatic levels of the United States and Mexico.

The sentimentalist, moreover, is outraged at any suggestion to abandon the line which began in 1882 with a tiny mule-drawn car.

The average star travels 25 miles per second, and one reaches a velocity of 680 miles a second, making the sun a mill in three years.

B.C. BRIEFS

POPULAR EVENT

VICTORIA (CP) — House Speaker Hugh Shantz says he has received about 60 requests for the 464 seats on the floor of the legislative chamber, the Speaker's and ladies galleries for the traditionally colorful opening of the legislature Jan. 26. Another 108 seats are available in the public gallery on a first-come-first-serve basis.

JAIL QUESTION

PENTICTON (CP)—The provincial government's Department of Public Works apparently does not see eye to eye with Penticton city council. Two Penticton aldermen made a tour of the city jail and termed facilities for women inmates "totally inadequate." The city clerk asked the government to improve conditions. The government then ruled the jail equipment not the responsibility of the Department of Public Works.

BUDGET STUDIED

NANAIMO (CP) — Nanaimo's $2,583,666 provisional budget was put before city council for approval Tuesday night. It was pointed out that the mill rate for general purposes has increased only three-tenths of a mill in three years.

WORLD BRIEFS

KKK BURNS CROSS
COLUMBIA, S.C. (AP) — A band of nearly 100 Ku Klux Klansmen burned a 15-foot high cross on a highway while calling for a united front against integration in South Carolina.

WITNESS SLAIN
HARRISON, N.J. (AP) — Pasquale Ferrante, a small-time hoodlum who was a witness to a shooting, was found shot to death in the back seat of a car Monday. Ferrante had been free on a $5,000 bail as a material witness in a tavern shooting incident in Newark in which three men were wounded last Sept. 23.

BUILDING TANKERS
TOKYO (AP) — Two 130,000-ton super-tankers, said to be the world's largest, will be built by Japanese shipyards for a Japanese petroleum firm to transport Persian Gulf oil to Japan. The tankers will be constructed at an estimated cost of $1,700,000 each.

RAMPAGE KILLS TWO
MODENA (Reuters)—An Italian

man surrendered meekly to police Monday after killing a girl and a woman in a 15-hour reign of shotgun terror through a village south of here. Police said a 43-year-old Palmio Migliorini ran amok Sunday afternoon.

Surgery Restores Sight After Lifetime In Dark

VICTORIA (CP)—When Olive Blinnie was born 61 years ago she was deaf and unable to learn to talk. Her sight was poor and by age 31 she was blind.

Recently surgery restored her vision enough for her to see the world in which she lives.

Miss Blinnie was born in Windsor, England, but her parents came to Canada in 1904 and Olive attended a school for the deaf in Winnipeg, learning to knit, sew and iron.

In 1918 she took up work as a dressmaker in Saskatoon until her sight failed and she had to give it up. She and her parents moved to Victoria in 1936.

CATARACT REMOVED
Last year the local CNIB got in touch with another specialist and an operation for removal of a cataract was carried out successfully.

Miss Blinnie now has what is known as guiding vision and is to return to hospital for another operation which it is hoped will improve her sight further.

For the last few years Miss Blinnie has been helped by Mrs. Lily Walls, a member of the women's auxiliary to the CNIB, who learned the hand-sign language so she could communicate with her.

With Mrs. Walls acting as a sort of interpreter, Miss Blinnie was able to give her impressions of her new-found sight.

"The first thing I remember noticing was the white ceiling in the hospital," she said.

"My heart leaped for joy. It was so thrilling for me."

Miss Blinnie lives with her 88-year-old mother and has always been active, looking after the housework and knitting garments for missionaries. She is also fond of walking.

"I now can see the difference grass, the blue water of the sea between the pavement and the trees, but my sight is still short and it takes time to get acquainted with people's faces."

"The restoration of my sight is in reality an answer to my prayers."

Double Ring Rites Unite Kelowna - Vernon Families

White 'mums, poinsettias, holly and cedar decorated Saint Michael and All Angels' Church on December 26 for the candlelight double ring ceremony when Heather Cayle Carner, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. J. A. Carner of Kelowna became the bride of Bryan Victor McLean, youngest son of Mr. and Mrs. D. McLean of Vernon.

Given in marriage by her father, the radiant bride wore a street length gown of white lace with long lily point sleeves. The prettily rounded neckline was outlined by a shirred chiffon yolk edged with lace applique and seed pearls. Her headpiece, a cap fashioned of lace leaves embroidered with seed pearls, held a full chapel length veil, and she carried a white Bible with red carnations attached by a white velvet ribbon.

Miss Sharan Lemmon was her sole attendant, and her street length full skirted dress was of embroidered blue taffeta. Her headpiece was a blue crown embroidered with seed pearls and veiled in net, and she carried a colonial bouquet of red carnations.

Acting as best man was Mr. Kenneth Nerbus of Kelowna and the ushers were Mr. J. Carner Jr., brother of the bride, and Mr. A. McLean, brother of the groom.

During the signing of the register Mr. Ernest Burnett sang "O Perfect Love" accompanied by Mr. F. Marriage at the organ.

After the ceremony a reception was held at the home of Mr. and Mrs. George Nott, Richter Street. The mother of the bride received in an imported sheath of heather green wool, while the groom's mother chose a costume of red woollen material, and they both wore charming corsages of yellow and white 'mums.

The bride's table, covered with a white cutwork cloth, was centred by a three-tiered wedding cake topped with pretty white swans and surrounded by tulips, lilies of the valley and white candles. The table was decorated with a beautiful bouquet of white 'mums and yellow centred daisies intermingled with sprigs of heather, changed to a beige dressmaker suit with matching topcoat and hat and brown accessories. On toast to the bride which was ably answered by the groom, leaving the groom presented and Mr. Kenneth Nerbus proposed the toast to the bride's maid. Salaries Paid To Ethiopian Wives

ADDIS ABABA (AP)—An Ethiopian woman brought suit against her former husband, saying he was in arrears in her salary.

The woman explained she had signed a contract to live a year with the man, at a salary of $10 a month. The man fell behind in the salary payments and now the year had elapsed and the woman made her formal claim in court. She won the case.

This is a common occurrence in Ethiopia today. A man can put a woman on the payroll as his wife by entering into what is called a "damoz" marriage. Under this system, a couple may legally marry for a length of time specified in the contract they draw up. The minimum is one month and the maximum is determined by negotiation.

During the term of the contract, the man must pay the woman a salary. At the end of the contract's term, the marriage automatically is dissolved without any divorce proceedings. The woman has no further claims against the man, unless he happened to be in arrears in the salary. Children born to such a union are legitimate.

The damoz system is only one of several kinds of marriage in this country, where polygamy is forbidden but sexual promiscuity common. Often infants less than a year old are married through negotiations between the parents of the babies. The fathers and mothers sign a contract which legally binds the infants in marriage. Such marriages can be dissolved by divorce at the request of either party.

FRUITFUL FACTS

FRUIT GUIDE

Want to perk up sleepy winter appetites? And, at the same time provide the family with healthful eating? Well, then, get your family into the "B.C. Apple Day" habit. Apples have probably a wider variety of uses than any other fruit, serve them fresh or cooked, hot or cold.

Two fine B.C. Apples now available in good supply are Rome Beauty and Stayman. The Rome Beauty is famous as the best baking apple available and is also excellent for other cooked dishes. The Stayman is a good all-purpose apple, slightly tart in flavor. This is also the time of year when delicately flavored B.C. Anjou Pears are at their best. Here's a fruit that will provide a welcome variation in lunchbox fruit... also ideal to serve in salads, dinner desserts. And still available... Flemish Beauty Pears which are a particularly economical buy right now. This budgetwise pear is good in baked, cooked dishes... or served fresh as a between meal snack.

Begin the New Year by serving orchard-fresh B.C. Apples and Pears to your family... a wonderful way to bring summer sunshine into winter menus.

One of Our First Woman Cabinet Ministers Is 93

ALIX, Alta. (CP)—Mrs. Irene Parby, one of the first woman cabinet minister and last surviving member of the "famous five" who fought for women's rights to sit in the Senate, celebrated her 93rd birthday Monday.

The phone rang with goodwill messages throughout the day at the Parby home on Dartmouth Ranch and some 50 relatives and friends dropped in to mark the occasion.

Despite a broken hip suffered in a fall three years ago, Mrs. Parby still gets up each morning about nine, and looks after her own light housework.

"I get chewed out if I try to help her too much," said her daughter-in-law, Mrs. Humphrey Parby. "I am told I have too much to do already."

Mrs. Parby has long been a champion of women's rights. The senate chamber now bears a plaque with the names of the "famous five" Judge Emily Murphy, Mrs. Parby, Mrs. Louise McKinney, Mrs. O. C. Edwards, and Mrs. Nellie L. McClung saw their work bear fruit when the Privy Council in London overruled a Supreme Court of Canada decision that women were not "persons" in the sense of being able to sit in the Senate.

She was named minister without portfolio in the United Farmers of Alberta cabinet in 1920, a few months after the late Mary Ellen Smith was appointed to the British Columbia cabinet—the first woman in the British Empire to gain a cabinet post.

Mrs. Parby sat for 14 years in the Alberta legislature. Her late husband was a pioneer rancher in the province.

Always deeply interested in current affairs, Mrs. Parby now is reading extensively about Africa. She is a keen reader of newspapers and news magazines.

Asked for a birthday comment, Mrs. Parby said: "There is not too much that I can say on the spur of the moment. I always like to think before saying too much, but I would like to thank all my friends, and the press, for the interest they have taken."

Alix is 80 miles south of Edmonton.

Canucks End Loss Streak With Win Over Combines

Smokies Add Win To WIHL Top Spot

TRAIL (CP) — Trail Smoke Eaters set up a commanding first-period lead and finished strongly to defeat Rossland Warriors 7-4 in a Western International Hockey League game here Tuesday night.

Only 250 fans were there to see Trail lead 3-1 after the first period, 5-3 after two and outscored Warriors 7-1 in the final period.

Hal Jones, Norm Lenardon and Ed Cristofoli each scored twice for Trail with Dave Russell getting a single.

Ernie Secco, a former Smoke Eater, led Rossland with two while Pinokke McIntyre and George Ferguson, both of whom will join Trail for the world championships in Switzerland, scored singles.

Lenardon put the game on ice for Trail with his second goal again on a breakaway, at 10:27.

Secco picked up his second at 15:13 with Trail a man short.

Smoke Eaters outshot Warriors 26-22. Six penalties were handed out.

VERNON (CP) — Vernon Canucks showed some of their Tom Steyk's long, accurate old razzle dazzle as they romped past the Combines' blue line to a 9-6 win over league-leading and paced in past Kabatoff.

Kelowna-Penticton Combines in Jim Middleton rounded the Okanagan Senior Hockey League action here Tuesday night, for Roche to bang in the tying goal.

Around 800 hometown fans watched the Canadians earn Casey's first of the night their first points on home ice on a play with linemen Sherm since the revised OSHL schedule was introduced. The win ended a four-game losing streak here.

The Combines next action is Friday night when they meet Trail Smoke Eaters in an interlocking fixture in Kelowna and District Memorial Arena.

Rookie Brian Casey blazed the way for Canadians with a four-goal performance while Merv Bidoski added two and Wall Trentini, Ron Morgan and Art Davidson sniped singles.

For the Combines Brian Roche, Bill Jones and Don Slater each scored twice.

Vernon held slim 2-1 edge after the first period, but exploded for six goals in the second. Combines finally got their passing plays going in the final canto and outscored the home-towners 4-1.

Slater found himself in front of the Vernon net with the puck and rammed home Combines' second, but Casey's pass on the fly at 16:22. Roche's slammung in Jacki Howard's rebound at 19:24, and Slater netting with a backhand with 12 seconds left in the game.

Vernon outshot Kelowna-Penticton 29-23, with Combines taking two of three minor penalties handed out.

Stamps Extend Margin Atop Western League

By THE CANADIAN PRESS they defeated Vancouver Canucks 5-1 in Calgary.

The victory gave the Stamps a four-point lead over the second-place Canucks.

Scoring To Level Off Says Prexy Campbell

Look for a stable scoring output in the National Hockey League from here on.

So says Clarence Campbell, the Saskatchewan-born lawyer who directs the big league from headquarters in Montreal.

Campbell, 55, a man who talks to anyone about hockey at little urging, sees a levelling-off in the offensive spurs that have marked NHL play each year since 1955.

That was the season the NHL decided to crack down on what hockey men call "restraining fouls," violations such as holding and hooking by a defender against an attacker.

The aim was to open up the game, to produce the exciting scoring plays more frequently.

It worked. Provided with greater room to work, sharp-shooting forwards clicked more regularly and produced higher-scoring games.

From an average of less than five goals a game, there was a jump to 5.59 in the 1957-58 season. The next year it was 5.79 and last year, up another notch at 5.89.

Meanwhile, Spokane Comets drubbed Victoria Cougars 4-1 to move two points behind the Canucks.

Tuesday night was the first game of Vancouver's current Prairie swing, made without coach Art Chapman who is in a Vancouver hospital recuperating from a stomach ailment.

CANUCKS SCORE FIRST

Danny Belisle, Vancouver's leading marksman, gave Canucks a 1-0 first-period lead when he banged a rebound by Larry Popeln behind Calgary netminder Lucien Dechene.

Calgary stormed back in the second and scored three times in less than four minutes to wrap up the victory. Lou Jankowski connected twice and Jimmy Brown once.

Norm Johnson and Sid Finney later added single goals to round out the scoring for the Stampeders.

At Victoria, 5,178 fans watched the home team go down to its second-straight defeat.

Bill Folk, Colin Kilburn, Bev Bell and Max Meklikoff scored for Comets, with Meklikoff getting his goal into an empty net late in the game.

George Ford spoiled Comets' goalie Gilles Boisvert's chances for his second successive shut out over the Cougars with 90 seconds remaining.

Sam Etcheverry Still Undecided

ALBUQUERQUE, N.M. (AP) — Canadian pro football player Sam Etcheverry said Tuesday he is undecided if he will report to Hamilton Tiger-Cats this fall.

Etcheverry, a quarterback for Montreal Alouettes the last nine seasons, was traded to Hamilton at the end of the 1960 season.

Etcheverry said he had not decided whether to report to Hamilton or switch to U.S. pro football. Etcheverry joined the Alouettes in the Big Four after graduation from Denver University where he played collegiate football.

He confirmed that several U.S. pro teams have contacted him, but would not say which club.

"I feel I'm a free agent," Etcheverry said when asked if he expected any trouble from Hamilton if he decided to play U.S. football. "I talked to several lawyers and they feel I'm a free agent, too."

Etcheverry's free-agent claim is based on a no-cut, no-trade agreement in his contract with the Alouettes.

But Canadian football commissioner Syd Halter said during the Canadian Football League meeting in Toronto Dec. 18 that a player is not a free agent until he is waived out of both the Eastern and Western conferences of the CFL.

The no-trade agreement was a matter between the Montreal club and Etcheverry, Halter maintained, and had no bearing on Etcheverry's status as far as the league was concerned.

The NFL and CFL have an unwritten peace pact under which they observe each other's contract rulings. The feeling in Canada after Halter's statement was that Etcheverry might have to take his case to court before he could jump to the National League.

KELOWNA JUNIOR PUCKSTERS CLASH WITH VERNON SUNDAY

Kelowna juniors play their fourth game of the new Okanagan Junior Hockey League Sunday when they take on Vernon, 3:30 p.m. at Summerland.

The Kelowna crew, under the coaching of former Penticton Vees coach Jack O'Reilly, have one win and two losses under their belts.

The Orchard city boys have seven players from the 1958 local junior squad.

The following Sunday Kelowna will host Kamloops in regular contest.

East Favored In U.S. Football

LOS ANGELES (AP) — The West team is a one-point favorite over the East for Sunday's Pro Bowl football game here. It's the shortest spread in years for the West.

Ordinarily, the team representing the Western Conference of the National Football League rates about a seven-point edge over the Eastern Conference representative. The West has responded by winning six of the first 10 bowls.

The game this year features two fine quarterbacks—Johnny Unitas of Baltimore Colts for the West and Norm Van Brocklin of Philadelphia Eagles for the East.

SLACKENED OFF

"Vernon" slackened off in the final canto and Jones raced in home free to beat Gordon at 4:25.

At the 13 minute mark Blair sent Davidson in with Casey, and while the crowd yelled a possible fifth for the rookie left winger, Davidson took it alone for number nine.

The Combines staged an all-out offensive in the final four minutes of play with Jones poking home Durbin's pass on the fly at 16:22. Roche's slammung in Jacki Howard's rebound at 19:24, and Slater netting with a backhand with 12 seconds left in the game.

Vernon outshot Kelowna-Penticton 29-23, with Combines taking two of three minor penalties handed out.

Boston Boss Wants Young Players

BOSTON (AP) — The last-place Boston Bruins, convinced they are going nowhere this season, will start building for the future Thursday night against New York Rangers in a National Hockey League game here.

"I had to go along with them (the older players) until I felt sure we weren't going anywhere," coach Milt Schmidt said. "I think now that's pretty definite. Now I want all the young legs I can find."

Two of the casualties in Schmidt's revamped lineup will be Vic Stasiuk and Bronco Horvath, kingpins of Boston's once-potent line. They will serve as spare forwards.

"I'm going to use kids like Dallas Smith, (19), and Aut Erickson, (22), on regular shifts and try to build for the future," Schmidt said.

He added that he is considering bringing up some promising farm hands to replace veterans.

Hary Can Keep Olympic Medals Says Chairman

FRANKFURT (AP) — A German sports official said Tuesday Armin Hary, Olympic sprint champion suspended for padding expense accounts, would not be forced to give up his medals as well as Jim Thorpe, American winner of the decathlon title in the 1912 games.

Kurt Buelow, chairman of the legal committee that found Hary guilty, said he felt the German track ace would be restored to amateur competition after serving the one-year suspension. Buelow also condemned the method of paying athletes' expenses, saying they virtually force athletes to be dishonest.

The committee that heard the charges against Hary found that he accepted $54,26 above expenses in two pre-Olympic meals last spring.

Thorpe won the 1912 decathlon at Stockholm. After the games he was called the greatest athlete of them all by the king of Sweden. Later, however, it was revealed that the Indian had played pro baseball one summer and he was forced to return the trophies.

Hary won the 100-metre dash in 1932, and anchored the German sprint relay team to a gold medal.

PROMOTIONAL STAMPS IN CIRCULATION

Fernie Bids for '68 Olympics

By ERIC GREEN (Daily Courier Staff Writer)

Recipients of letters from Fernie, B.C., might raise a quizzical eyebrow at a promotional stamp that is being tacked on to most letters emanating from that point in the province.

Turned "Olympic Stamps," the offending stamps tout Fernie as the "proposed site of the 1968 Winter Olympics." They are green and white, and almost four times as large as the normal postal stamp.

While Fernieners are not attempting to use them to get by postal authorities without paying regular postal rates, the stamps fill one corner of an envelope with a very blatant obviousness. The centre of the stamp is taken up by a picture of a skier flying through the air on his wooden slats.

On one side of this depicted skier (with large peaks drawn in the background) is what must be taken as the Olympic torch. Fernie, B.C., is in bold type at the top, 1968 on the remaining side, and on the bottom border is Winter Olympics.

The "proposed site" is seen in very, very fine type at the bottom of the picture of the skier.

DRAW ATTENTION

The intended purpose of the stamps is to draw attention of outsiders (those outside Fernie) to the Fernie bid for the 1968 Winter Olympics.

The Fernie Chamber of Commerce is promoting the stamp sales and is in charge of their distribution.

News from Fernie indicates that local merchants and organizations are supporting the Fernie bid, actually the Snow Valley Olympic Committee's bid, for the 1968 Winter Olympics.

Brings to mind a somewhat believable tale told at Kamloops by Rene Pelletier, manager of Manning Park, last fall. Mr. Pelletier spoke on the 1968 Winter Olympics, and the various bidders.

At that time there were three known bidders, excluding Banff which had all but withdrawn from the competition. The three then were Garibaldi Park, Manning Park, and Fernie.

A great deal of research done at that time showed that Manning Park was the most suited to the needs of any site that has ambitions to be the base for anything as ambitious as the Winter Olympics.

Mr. Pelletier said that he realized that talking about something as far ahead in the future as 1968 was a little in the distance, but an event of that magnitude cannot be realized one year ahead of time.

The Olympic Committee sits in Innsbruck, Austria, in 1963 to receive bids from countries desirous of hosting the 1968 Winter Olympics.

Even the presentation of the bid entails a vast amount of work. Canada is far from being alone in wanting to host the Winter Olympics, and the Canadian delegate should be in a position to present all the facts and figures in the best manner possible and with the greatest support.

Mr. Pelletier told the Board of Trade at Kamloops that the site being touted by "private interests" that was supposed to be in Garibaldi, was not really inside the park. Access facilities into the proposed Garibaldi development alone would cost $35,000,000, according to Mr. Pelletier.

$15,000,000 FOR MANNING

He estimated the cost to develop Manning Park at $15,000,000. Squaw Valley, site of the 1959 Winter Olympics, cost $18,900,000 to develop.

At that time the final figures on the cost of Squaw Valley had not been tallied. The Federal Government of Canada had already indicated it would contribute $5,000,000 towards the development, and the British Columbia government is expected to come across with as much or more.

Rene Pelletier touted Manning Park as the ideal location, bringing facts and figures on terrain and snowfall along with him to support his statements.

Because the expected expense of Manning Park would be approximately $5,000,000 more than the provincial and federal governments were going to supply in the Olympics bid, the rest of the money would have to be supplied by private interests under the strict control of the B.C. government, with stringent laws preventing whole-sale exploitation by greedy private interests.

Mr. Pelletier's verbal plea for support of Manning Park was very convincing. The buildings resulting from the development, would, he said, be turned over to the University of B.C. to be used for a base for the Summer School of Fine Arts as well as for the Forestry Faculty.

Good climate, snow and terrain conditions, road and transportation facilities, and entertainment and accommodation are the requirements of any potential site for the Winter Olympics. And then money to build it.

Another set of facts and figures point out that Garibaldi is 75 miles north of Vancouver, and the provincial government has promised a new four-lane highway to the area if it is selected. The proposed site is on the northwest side of Whistler Mountain, which has an average maximum snow depth of 12 feet and a mean temperature of 20.3 to 35.6 degrees. It has a natural ski run of 3,000 feet, 2,000 more than the Olympic requirements.

No major roads would have to be built to Manning Park, 135 miles east of Vancouver, with its ski runs a short distance off the Hope-Princeton Highway on 7,900 foot Mt. Frosty. Nearby Lightning Lake is suited to skating.

It is estimated that the Fernie site would cost $5,000,000 to develop. Their Lizard Range is 6,500 feet long. The snow averages 15 feet each season and temperatures range between 45 above and 33 below.

Rossland, contrary to what Mr. Pelletier had to say, is apparently still in the running. It offers skiing on three peaks of 7,000 feet with slopes of 3,000 feet. Snowfall averages 10 feet and apparently the skiing, skating, and hockey would have the benefit of being close together in a centralized location.

The outcome of these conflicting interests' bids should prove interesting.

Fernie's promotional stamp, however, at best seems somewhat premature. Especially since it seems calculated to make the recipient think that it already has been chosen, which is far from the truth.

Predicts United Command

By STEWART MACLEOD Canadian Press Staff Writer

LONDON (CP)—Sir Frederick Brundrett, an authoritative name in British defence planning for 40 years, predicts that by 1975 Commonwealth forces will be merged under a unified command.

From a British point of view, Sir Frederick sees this as the solution to maintaining Britain's contribution in the same world with two growing giants—the United States and Russia.

"It now is generally accepted that this country will never again be strong enough to enter by ourselves into any territory which is not willing to receive us," he says.

Sir Frederick, whose views are valued by British military officials, is voicing his opinions for the first time since he retired as chairman of the defence research policy committee a year ago. And he pulls no punches in looking ahead for 15 years.

Writing in Hawk, the magazine of RAF staff colleges, he tells his air-minded readers that ballistic missiles with ranges of 5,000 miles have made air defence "meaningless."

"National air defence systems of the type developed in the last 20 years or so must therefore disappear."

PLUMPS FOR SUBS

For the proposed Commonwealth command, he suggests the missile-equipped submarine as the most effective deterrent. "I believe... this would be the most profitable form to be adopted by the Commonwealth."

Just as Britain's position was changing in relation to Russia and the United States, so it was in relation to the Commonwealth countries. Increasing populations and scientific and technical progress were enabling the resources of older members to be developed more fully.

"Anyone who is familiar with Australia and Canada, for instance, cannot fail to recognize the almost fantastic rate of progress in these two countries in recent years."

Sir Frederick, whose military career began in 1914 when he joined the navy following his graduation from Cambridge, has been on the scientific side of defence since 1919. At various stages in his career he has worked for the three armed services and between 1950 and 1954 he was scientific adviser to the defence ministry. Until now his opinions seldom escaped from the closed doors of committee rooms.

In his predictions for 1975, Sir Frederick doesn't say whether Commonwealth a11h countries will place all their forces under a unified command but he clearly refers to "the abandoning of separate forces for the U.K." He says the Commonwealth force should be well balanced with individual members contributing "as seems appropriate."

He also predicts that Britain, by 1975, will be a full member of the West European community, creating the problem of reconciling Britain's position as a member of both groups. Another problem would be the political difficulties involved in uniting the Commonwealth in what would amount to a Commonwealth government.

The Commonwealth force, he says, should have a naval unit on a permanent station somewhere between Aden and Hong Kong to deal with any outbreaks "east of Suez where they will primarily affect the Commonwealth."

He predicts little change in Europe over the next 15 years and it will still be necessary to maintain Western troops there.

"The Commonwealth will still be required to make a contribution to these but I would expect it to be smaller than at present."

During the next 15 years, he expects a "considerable relaxation" of world tensions but he does not foresee complete disarmament.

Tonsils Shrink To Reduce Ills

By BURTON H. FEEN, M.D.

Dear Doctor: I know two youngsters, 9 and 16 years old, who seem to have outgrown repeated throat infections. Isn't this because they're less exposed to cigarette smoke?

Dear Mrs. S.: After seven or eight years, tonsils shrink and immunity grows. With more people smoking today, both boys probably encounter more burning cigarettes than ever before.

Dear Doctor: Can the belladonna I'm taking for a stomach ailment affect glaucoma and increase the pressure in my eye?

Dear Mrs. E.: Yes, belladonna and its close relative atropine both widen the pupils. The surrounding colorful tissue bunches, blocking off channels which normally drain fluid from the eye.

HIGH PRESSURE A HAZARD
Belladonna hardly disturbs normal eye. But when the pressure is already high, belladonna or atropine can send it soaring to new heights.

Doctors keep a sharp lookout for patients who might be harmed by belladonna, but even a doctor's eye is not all-seeing.

Dear Doctor: My question may seem foolish.

Why, at 41, is one side of my face wrinkles while the other side isn't?

Mrs. A. D.

Dear Mrs. D.: Doctors are still asking themselves this "foolish" question. The skin and tissue beneath it, sometimes waste away on one side of the face—usually the left. Females seem especially vulnerable.

Injury and infection have been blamed, especially inflammation of the nerve which supplies feeling to the skin on that side. The automatic nerves which control circulation and sweating may be at fault.

Ask your doctor about paraffin injections to iron out these wrinkles.

VITILIGO TREATMENT
Dear Doctor: My skin specialist claims that only oxydoparalen restores pigment to vitiligo. You claim that there are already two treatments with another on the way. What are they?

Mrs. A. R.

Dear Mrs. R. and all you others who asked about vitiligo: (1) Oxydoparalen, swallowed or painted on the white patches, restores pigment to vitiligo. (2) Dihydroxyacetone, painted over the vitiligo, stains the outer layer of skin, covering the white patch. It doesn't produce true pigment. (3) Yale University doctors are trying to solve the vitiligo problem with a chemical related to a pituitary gland secretion. (4) Today's unpredictable treatments may leave the patch white, turn it yellow (like jaundice) or match your skin color perfectly.

The bidding:
South 1♥ West 2♥ North 3♥ East 4♥

The bidding:
Opening lead—Jack of clubs.
As a defender, you have to view with suspicion any unusual play made by declarer. Here is a case where South made a good play and East did not find the counterstroke to nullify it.

The bidding followed normal lines when North raised the opening bid of one heart to two, and South, with 18 high-card points and a six-card suit, went directly to game.

West led the Jack of clubs and declarer saw that there was possibility of going down if West had the ace of spades. So instead of making the normal play of covering the jack with the queen, he played the three from dummy.

East allowed the jack to hold the trick and West continued with a club. The queen forced the ace, establishing the king as a trick, and declarer ruffed. South then cashed the A-K of hearts, discarded a spade on the king of clubs, and later lost two spade tricks to make four hearts.

It would not have mattered if West had shifted to another suit at trick two. Declarer could have built up the club trick himself, and the end result would have been the same.

East should have realized that the unusual play by declarer of ducking the jack of clubs was not simply an act of generosity on South's part. He should have assumed that declarer was afraid that East would win the ace and make a damaging return.

East should therefore have overtaken the jack with the ace and shifted to the queen of spades as the one hope of defeating the contract. It was inconceivable that South would duck the jack with any holding other than a singleton club.

The duck indicated clearly that South had a weak spot which he did not want East to exploit. East should have reasoned that if it was good for South not to have East on lead, then it was bad for East not to take the lead. He should have acted accordingly.

Larger Tax Share Asked For French In Ontario

OTTAWA (CP) — An organization dedicated to protecting the rights of the French minority in Ontario is waging a campaign for a larger tax share for separate schools.

The French-Canadian Education, which has celebrated its 50th anniversary, represents the approximately 500,000 French-speaking Canadians in the province, says its secretary-general, Roger Charbonneau.

Looking back over its 50 years, he said the association's most stubborn fight was against legislation which early in the century threatened the teaching of French and which opposed the religious interests of Roman Catholics.

The group won its fight in 1927 when the controversial legislation was repealed. Now it is waging another fight. It is attempting to make large companies pay taxes to separate schools in proportion to the number of Catholics among their shareholders.

To collect taxes from these companies, however, separate schools must themselves establish beyond doubt the number of Catholic shareholders a company has.

IMPOSSIBLE TASK

Preparation by the association of a complete list of Catholic shareholders is considered practically impossible, particularly in the case of a company with a large number of small shareholders.

Governments have shown little inclination to legislation on the question and the courts remain the only recourse. The association hopes it soon will be in a position to submit to the courts a test case which would set a precedent in favor of separate schools.

If they were to win their case, said Mr. Charbonneau, their revenues would be increased by thousands of dollars annually.

The work of the association does not stop at the school question. It gives special attention to isolated central areas where groups of French-Canadians have no organization to bring them together for concerted action.

A social club is usually the first thing the association establishes in such centres, and from "sororities" other organizations. There now are more than 20 social clubs in various parts of the province.

One project the association would like to bring to completion as soon as possible is construction of a normal school at Sudbury. The school would be attached to the Jesuit-directed Sacred Heart College of Sudbury which has the status of a university.

What Future For Berlin?

WEST BERLIN (Reuters)—Many people are wondering what this spring will bring to this isolated city of 2,250,000 people.

Two years ago, Soviet Premier Khrushchev announced a plan to make a demilitarized free city out of West Berlin, situated at the heart of Communist East Germany and regarded by West Germans and West Berliners as a showpiece of the Western world.

Since 1958, there have been a number of small crises over Berlin, but little change in the situation. At present, there is a lull. But many Berliners are wondering how long it will last.

It is generally believed here that by spring West Berliners will know what lies ahead for them.

Khrushchev and British Prime Minister Macmillan have both spoken of a summit meeting on Berlin and Germany early in 1961, after John Kennedy has been installed in office as U.S. president.

Last September, the East Germans forbade West Germans and Western diplomats accredited in West Germany to visit East Berlin unless they had special permits. They also refused to recognize West German passports held by West Berliners.

In retaliation, West Germany gave notice to end the East-West German inter-zonal trade agreement at the end of 1960 and the Big Three Western allies in Berlin stopped issuing travel documents to East Germans wishing to travel to Western countries.

The West German and Western allied view is that restrictions on freedom of circulation in Berlin violate the four-power status of the city agreed on with the Russians at the end of the Second World War.

But West Berlin is mainly vulnerable to Communist action against it on the land and water routes linking the city with West Germany through East Germany.

In 1948-1949, a Communist blockade on these land routes was overcome by an allied airlift of supplies into the city. The Western allies any freedom of access to the city was guaranteed in agreements with the Russians ending the blockade.

"Stormy Weather" Group Busy Catching Snowflakes

MONTREAL (CP) — The Stormy Weather Research Group at McGill University is experimenting with a device to measure snowfall before it reaches the ground and thus avoid inaccuracies caused by drifting.

A team under Professor K. L. S. Gunn has set up on the campus a light beamed several feet above the ground that batters information on snowfall density and records the information on a chart, using a photoelectric cell.

Another measuring project on the campus employs a camera and four slim rods staked out in the shape of a square with 20-foot sides.

The camera, mounted inside a second-floor window of the Physics Building, automatically takes 10 pictures hourly, providing a reading on the snow

Reds Brand Author Pearl Buck 'Vicious Exponent' Of Aggression

By CLARE McDERMOTT PEKING (Reuters)—A Chinese literary magazine has accused the United States of "cultural aggression" and named American writer Pearl Buck as its "most vicious and wicked exponent."

The charges were made in the monthly magazine World Literature which contained two articles by Chinese writers on Miss Buck's works.

The magazine, described by official Chinese sources as being devoted to "progressive literature and literary criticism from all over the world," also contained articles and poems praising China by recent visitors from India, Japan, Cuba and Africa.

Foreign observers here described the attack on Miss Buck as unusual. Generally, Chinese Communist publications ignore foreign writings on China, unless they are favorable, and they seldom single out individuals for attention.

LIVED IN CHINA

One of the attacks in World Literature was entitled A General Analysis of the Reactionary American Writer Pearl Buck. The other was a "reputation" of her novel Letters from Peking, a fictional work based on the period following establishment here of the Chinese People's Republic.

Miss Buck lived in China for more than 40 years, growing up in Nanjing and then teaching in a mission school. She is best known for her novel The Good Earth and other works about China.

She has not been in China since the Communist-led People's Republic was proclaimed in 1949.

One of the articles said Miss

Buck's work, "written under the old trademark of having lived in China for more than 30 years, slander the people of China and bewilder and deceive foreign readers who do not understand the real conditions in China."

SWEDISH ANTHROPOLOGIST SAYS LAPS, ESKIMOS NEIGHBORS

MONTREAL (CP) — A young Swedish anthropologist is taking a close look at the theory that Canadian Eskimos and the Laplanders living in Finland, Norway and Sweden once were next-door neighbors.

Rolf Kjellstrom, studying this winter at McGill University in preparation for further examination of the theory, hopes to head north and live for several months in an Eskimo settlement. Before coming to Canada on a Canada Council scholarship, he lived for eight months in a Lapland village.

The theory hinges on the possibility that both groups came from Russia. The Eskimos are presumed to have migrated to the east, entering North America over the Bering Strait between Alaska and Russia and eventually spreading as far east as Greenland.

The Laplanders, according to the theory, moved west, settling in the northern reaches of the Scandinavian countries.

Mr. Kjellstrom, making a comparative study of the two groups, says both now number about 40,000.

DOOLEY ILL. AGAIN

NEW YORK (AP) — Dr. Thomas Dooley, the jungle physician who pioneered medical care in Laos, has suffered a recurrence of the primary cancer discovered in his chest wall in August, 1959. The 33-year-old doctor's brother, Malcolm Dooley, announced his condition Tuesday. Dr. Dooley has been undergoing examinations for more than two weeks at memorial hospital where he was operated upon originally.

CHANGES HER MIND

LOS ANGELES (AP)—Swedish-born actress Gita Hall decided she doesn't want to divorce actor Barry Sullivan after all. Her lawyer reported the reconciliation as her suit was about to go to trial Tuesday. Miss Hall, 27, obtained a divorce decree June 23, 1959, but she and Sullivan, 48, reconciled before it became final.
